I retained Larry to opine on the amount of commission commercial real estate brokers should have been paid on a multi-million-dollar sale.

He is a consummate professional. Larry was specific with his needs, readily available, and rendered his opinion well in advance of trial deadlines.

His breadth of experience and knowledge funneled into a well-rounded opinion. I believe his report directly lead to the case settling prior to trial.

I will use him again, and highly recommend his services.
